(Reference: The 9/11 Commission Report, p. 6.) The report begins with a quote from Thomas Paine: “The history of all ages is a history of the efforts of tyrants and oppressors to confine their power within the limits of their own tyranny.” We have a responsibility to be “tyrants and oppressors” and to confine power within the limits of our own tyranny. The report mentions the Plame affair, the administration's attempt to win congressional support for the Iraq war, the Patriot Act, and other abuses of power. It also states that its authors “did not attempt to find every instance of executive branch malfeasance,” and that they “did not believe that [they] could reach any definitive conclusions on the legality of the vast majority of the specific acts.” It should be emphasized that this is not a criticism of these individuals' efforts. We have a moral obligation to pursue justice. The report provides an account of the September 11 attacks, but they are a1d647c40b

How to Consume a Drawing To display a drawing, start Autodesk Inventor. Then, right-click the title bar of the drawing window and choose Draw. In the main menu, click File, and then click Draw. In the drawing window, you can select Edit > Selection from the FreeCAD menu bar or the View menu. This turns the selected face on and off. You can then select the face with the Select tool and right-click to perform a Cut, Copy, or Paste operation. If you need to share the drawing or have it mirrored, click the appropriate icon in the Options bar. * * *
