cechach.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a shoe for a motorcycle comprising a toe guard and a mud guard that has a semicircular cut portion around the toe guard for easy removal of the toe guard for access to the motorcycle engine. 2. Description of the Related Art The conventional motorcycle shoe of a simple design has a toe guard that is generally fixedly mounted to the forefoot rest portion of the motorcycle shoe. However, during maintenance of the motorcycle engine, the toe guard has to be removed each time to gain access to the crankcase, while the conventional motorcycle shoe has a quite complex construction and therefore needs a lot of labor in assembly, adjustment and cleaning. Therefore, the primary object of the present invention is to provide a motorcycle shoe which comprises a toe guard and a mud guard and a combination of the toe guard and the mud guard is of a simple structure and easy to use for maintenance of the motorcycle engine, a portion of the toe guard has a semicircular cut portion and the mud guard is removably mounted on the forefoot rest portion of the motorcycle shoe. The motorcycle shoe according to the present invention comprises a forefoot rest portion mounted on the forefoot portion of the motorcycle shoe and having a recess, a toe guard having a mounting recess corresponding to the recess of the forefoot rest portion and mounted pivotally on the forefoot rest portion, a support rod mounted on the toe guard and having two end portions, and a combined mud guard having a base with a semicircular cut portion, a support rod mounted on the base and having two end portions, and a slide having two opposite end portions fitted into the end portions of the support rod, the slide having a projection corresponding to the recess of the toe guard and an elastic portion fitted between the projection and the recess, the combined mud guard and slide being mounted pivotally to the toe guard, wherein the toe guard, the support rod and the combined mud guard and slide form a horseshoe-shaped arcuate open structure, and the combined mud guard and the slide are selectively fitted on the support 3da54e8ca3
